Dear Professor Hertz,

I have just mailed you the copies of your fine articles you were kind enough to lend me. You should have them by the time you get this letter.

Will you please be kind enough to tell Mr. Malinowsky that the two thing I have yet to return to him are at our office where they are to be copied and returned to him. Unfortunately, they are moving the office and haven't had a chance to do this, but they inform me they will be returned to Mr. Malinowsky very soon.

Thank you both very much.

Sincerely yours,

Harold Weisberg
